

New Australian Online Auction Say's Goodbye To Online Auction Listing Fees And Final Value Fee Percentages

BidSell, a new online auction in Australia, has taken the online auction market by storm by not charging their members any listing fees or final value fee percentages.

Sydney, Australia (FPR) January 13 2006 -- BidSell, a new online auction in Australia, has taken the online auction market by storm by not charging their members any listing fees or final value fee percentages.

Johnny Raad, General Manager for BidSell (www.BidSell.com.au) Commented that "no listing fees or final value percentages would be charged to their members."

Other auction sites charge fees when a member lists a item for sale, then a final fee percentage. At BidSell Only a small flat fee of 50c (fifty cents) is charged to their members if their item sells. (No sale, no fee policy)

BidSell has also introduced a user verification system to help prevent online fraud against their members, they can verify who they are by putting their credit card details on file or by sending BidSell $5 & a copy of any government approved id, the $5 paid by the member would be credited to their account towards paying their BidSell fees.

Members can also choose if they would like their eBay feedback & listings to appear on the site, by simply logging into their user account & apply for a eBay migration request.

The eBay Listing Migration is one of the most innovative and effective tools available to expand your business. With the eBay Listing Migration, approved sellers or dealers can add relevant, real-time eBay listings to their BidSell pages in just seconds. Best of all, the eBay Listing Migration produces click-through rates two times greater than traditional banners or links that take you to eBay. eBay Listing Migration will dynamically list pertinent eBay auctions and listing details, including product information, gallery images, bidding prices, and ending times.

Specifics: How Listing Migration Works

Approved Sellers or Dealers can display up to 25 eBay listings that are dynamically updated in real-time.

Additionally, approved sellers and dealers are able to display their eBay listings together with their BidSell listings in one single page.

"Check my feedback on eBay: - eBayUser"

How many times have you typed the statement above on your auctions?

Well, once is too much. BidSell has found the answer to this problem. BidSell has developed a way to post your eBay and BidSell feedback ratings in one small window. It can be placed directly on your listing or linked from the listing. This is a major development from one of the leaders of eCommerce.
