

How You Can Supplement Your Shrinking Pension With An Amazing Wealth Creation Approach

There is hope for those watching the value of their pensions shrink and worried about their future financial security - Acorn Property Concepts' free wealth creation seminars reveal how their existing clients have found financial freedom and built property portfolios worth over £50 Million.

Peterborough, UK, September 26, 2006 (FPRC) -- People who are seeking financial freedom and those wanting to escape the 'rat race' need to make their way to Acorn Property Concepts' latest Wealth Creation Seminar at the Holiday Inn, Thorpe Wood, Peterborough UK from 10am to 2:00pm.

The free seminar will expose simple wealth-generating strategies that work for anyone in today's – and tomorrow's – economies. Wealth seekers who would like to see their net worth rocket in the coming years can sign up for the event online at www.acornpropertyconcepts.com.

Brainchild of property investment guru Terry Allen, Acorn Property Concepts grew out of his own rapid success in building a million-pound property portfolio in just two years.

"They laughed when I said I was leaving the police service to become a millionaire instead...now I have a multi-million pound property portfolio and a passive income as well" says Allen, a former policeman. "It's all due to the most life changing book I have ever read – 'Rich Dad, Poor Dad' by Robert Kyosaki – if you haven't read it then you are depriving yourself of some very valuable education". Acorn is offering a free copy of the book on its website www.acornpropertyconcepts.com.

A few years ago, Acorn Director Rob Moore tells us, "I was a struggling artist, underselling my talents and services just to survive. I had negative beliefs around money and was £30,000 in debt and paying out more than I was earning. I decided to turn my life around and take full personal responsibility for my life and my actions – within 3 months I had paid of all of my debts and secured a directorship of a powerful property company. I now have a sizeable property portfolio, run a coaching academy and love every aspect of my life!"

Mark Horner, Acorn's Sales Director, tells a similar story of how he went from Butcher's Assistant to Property Owner in one short year! Allen and his co-Directors will share their own rags-to-riches stories and step-by-step instructions on how they've exploded their own wealth at the Seminar.

Due to very significant uptake of their services, Acorn has now expanded to provide wealth creation, self development, life and business coaching services. People signing up for their various Membership packages can receive:
