

'Evercreatures' Wellies Launch their New Baseball Boot Style Wellingtons for Winter 2006

Emilyhannah (www.funky-wellington-boots.co.uk), a specialist footwear retailer, announces its exclusive range of 'Evercreatures' baseball boot style wellingtons for winter 2006.

November 8, 2006 (FPRC) -- Owned by top welly designers, Emily Todd and Hannah Petty, Emilyhannah is based in Somerset – the home of Glastonbury Festival. The company is based online and posts out thousands of pairs of wellies each year to destinations in the United Kingdom and worldwide. So wherever you are, a pair of funky wellies can reach you in a matter of days.

Welly styles and designs have changed throughout their three years of trading as they try to improve their range and keep up with customer demands. Emilyhannah now offer children's, men's and ladies Wellingtons with a choice of neoprene, cotton and fleece linings in any size.

The latest new release is the baseball boot style wellington. Inspired by the ever popular baseball boot, these wellies have full length laces and a trim around the soles.

Hannah Petty comments: "We are very excited about the baseball boot style welly. It cannot be found anywhere else and it looks fantastic in real life. We thought, with so many imitators and competitors out there now, we needed something to set us apart. I imagine this boot to be very popular amongst young people and festival goers because they look seriously cool, but are still completely waterproof. With the launch at the beginning of the Christmas period, we shall see the results of our predictions quickly".

Sure to cause another funky welly storm, the baseball boot style welly is available in UK sizes 36 to 42 and is priced at £39.99.
