

New Movie Alert: Movie Downloads versus Online Dvd Rentals

Is the future of movie downloading passing the world by? Movie Download Matrix is supporting legal movie downloads and the trading of Dvds online.

January 22, 2007 (FPRC) --

MovieDownloadMatrix.com will start showing movies with the option of trading DVDs online. The goal is to provide movie-lovers with more instant gratification and the thrill of downloading legal movies.

Many who cannot afford online DVD rentals can easily and inexpensively trade DVDs online. Many movie-goers have DVDs lying around and collecting dust, while they could be trading their DVDs for movies they want. It is imminent for the evolution of advanced technology to greatly effect online DVD rentals.

The internet is quickly becoming the universal channel, for connecting the world to their favorite films. MovieDownloadMatrix realized this tremendous need and started supporting Cinemanow, who is a leader in movie download technology. Although movie studios normally release their best material on DVDs first, many still can find a large number of popular independent films. Online DVD rental still brings in huge profits for power players like Netflix.

DeWayne Strickland said, "It is pleasing to see Netflix announce their new "Watch Now" feature. With more people getting high-speed internet access, we will see movie-goers everywhere on laptops, watching their favorite movies in minutes!"

The concept of discussing the newest movie out on DVD and then being able to immediately download it, is the future of movie downloading. No more going to the movie store to rent DVDs or waiting for your DVD rentals to come in the mail. Movie downloading will be the ultra fast method, by which you either have it or you will be left behind.

Inspired by the movie "The Matrix", Movie Download Matrix was started in October of 2005 and slowly evolved into a wild neon green site, that focused heavily on the horror movie genre.

MovieDownloadMatrix.com is run by DeWayne Strickland(Online Horror Movie Critic). He resides in South Dayton, New York.
