

123Together.com is First to Release new Windows SharePoint Services v3.0 Application Templates

123Together is now offering 20 new Windows SharePoint Services v3.0 application templates, making them the first to provide these important tools to their Hosted WSS users.

February 5, 2007 (FPRC) -- 123Together.com, the leading provider of Hosted Microsoft Exchange, today announced that it is now offering 20 new Windows SharePoint Services v3.0 application templates. 123Together.com is the first Hosted Exchange messaging and collaboration provider to provide these important tools to their Hosted WSS users.

Windows SharePoint templates are out-of-the-box customized web site templates that address the needs and requirements of specific business processes and workflows. They allow for the easy customization of 123Together.com's Hosted Windows SharePoint services to various business situations.

Even though Windows SharePoint Services v3.0 is a powerful standalone tool, application templates can be plugged in to help customize for specific situations such as:

The Competitive Analysis Site – The Competitive Analysis Site application template helps individuals and teams organize competitive information. The site provides useful document templates helping users perform useful competitive analysis techniques. Links to industry, company and product news can also be included making the site the central location for all industry and competitive news and information.

The Employee Activities Site – The Employee Activities Site application template helps manage the creation and attendance of events for employees. Users can submit event profiles and create event calendar items while other employees use the site to sign up as well as track their full activities list.

The Employee Self-Service Benefits Site – The Employee Self-Service Benefits application template provides a location to inform employees about available benefits as well as enabling them to enroll for each benefit.

The Sports League Site – The Sports League application template helps an intra-company league administrator manage a sports league. The site tracks team information, players, captains and scheduled team activities (including off-field activities). Team members can enter in game results and perform analysis at a team, game or individual player level. The site also enables discussions between league members through a League Discussion board.

Details of the remaining Hosted WSS templates are available at http://www.123together.com/Windows\_SharePoint\_Services\_v3.xhtml .

"We are proud to again be the first to market with another SharePoint service," said Ravi Agarwal, chief executive officer of 123Together.com, "and being the first to offer the latest version of software is one of the things that 123Together.com has become known for. SharePoint is already one of our most popular services and we strive to be able to provide our users with the tools they need to further integrate SharePoint into their business workflow.”

Recently, 123Together.com became the first to offer Hosted Windows SharePoint Services v3.0 and with today’s release, they continue to be the first company to offer these important services.
