

New Global Abundance Program Provides Busy Families With An Automated and Simple Home Business

Barriers such as advertising, follow-up, and closing the deal have always been a challenge for most home based marketers, until now!

March 8, 2007 (FPRC) -- Chicago, IL -- With the cost of just about everything rising, from gas to rent to milk, families are squeezed more than ever to earn more money. "Many are working two and three jobs just to keep a roof over their heads. And any thoughts of improving their lifestyle is looking more and more hopeless," said Chad Hershey, an online entrepreneur who feels he's discovered a home-based business that could change all of that.

Hershey and thousands of similar entrepreneurs are embracing GAP (Global Abundance Program), an automated marketing system designed especially for small and home-based businesses.

"Forget spending your last penny on advertising. The GAP system can do all of that for you. You don't even have to sell anything to make money with GAP," Hershey said.

The GAP system uses what they call Corporate Managed Marketing to pull in large numbers of prospective customers. Then an in-house professional sales team works with prospects to transform them into enthusiastic customers who are ready to start their own home based Internet business.

"You can use GAP to promote your existing product or service, or you can sell the GAP system itself. The commissions range from $700 to $3,400 per sale, so this is serious income for most families," Hershey pointed out.

This gets to what millions of families and busy professionals alike need -- an easy to run business that takes very little time with the potential for a full-time income. Rather than having to work multiple jobs, one spouse can keep their full-time job while the other works from home, or both can work from home all together.

"In the past, home-based business opportunities were very difficult to make money with. You could spend thousands getting started only to stumble when you couldn't find enough new customers. The beauty of the GAP marketing system is that it can do all the advertising, marketing and selling for you," Hershey said.

Hershey, a 12 year Direct Sales Industry Veteran, had bold comments about GAP, "It sounded like hype and I almost missed it! I was one click away from missing the most lucrative opportunity I have seen in 12 years! I'm so thankful that I took the system for a free "test drive." Hershey further said, "This is the first business I have seen since I started direct sales that, literally, my retired mother could do. That says a lot!"

Hershey concludes, "Help others, tell the truth, and don't be greedy. Do that and you can leave the rat race behind just like I did."
