

LA2DAY Kicks Off 'Capture Your LA' Video Competition

Angelinos can now capture in video, their unique perspective of Los Angeles and submit it to LA online magazine LA2DAY for a chance to win an Ultimate LA Weekend adventure.

June 28, 2007 (FPRC) -- Los Angeles, California – LA online magazine LA2DAY today announced a call for entries for their “Capture Your LA” video contest. Contestants are asked to present their own unique view of Los Angeles in a 60 second video and enter it to win an ULTIMATE LA WEEKEND for two including a stay at the Standard Hollywood Hotel, a full dinner at Chaya Restaurant in Beverly Hills, $500 cash to spend, and more.

Additionally, the winning video will be showcased on the LA2DAY website and YouTube.

Angelinos are encouraged to submit creative and enticing videos that capture their personal perspective of one of the world’s most dynamic cities. Contestants can enter their own video or browse through other entries to vote on their favorites.

Videos can be screened and voted on at LA2DAY.COM and on You Tube. The winner of the ‘Capture Your LA’ video contest will be determined by online voting and a panel of judges and announced on LA2DAY.COM

Contestants can go visit the Los Angeles magazine contest page for more details on how to participate.

About LA2DAY: LA2DAY.com is an online lifestyle magazine about discovering the undiscovered hidden gems of Los Angeles. For all who call alternative LA home and for kindred spirits on a weekend pass, LA2DAY.com illuminates fresh currents and extraordinary experiences. Whether you are a permanent Angelino or one of the twenty-four million people who visit Los Angeles each year, LA2DAY.com is the place to find unique restaurants, attractions, adventures, hotels, hotspots and much more.

Contact Information

For more information contact Marlon Ray of LA2DAY (<http://www.la2day.com>)
310-247-9610

Keywords

Los Angeles magazine

You Tube

LA online magazine

You can read this press release online here