Online home theater retailer, HT Mart, was recently contacted by the Homes Editor of Grapevine magazine.

October 15, 2007 (FPRC) -- HTmart.com, a popular online site for home theater products and information, announces its inclusion in the September/October 2007 issue of Grapevine magazine (<http://www.grapevine-mag.com>). The issue includes articles on rooms that are designed to entertain, with home theaters and media rooms being the central focus.

In the article, "Designed to Entertain", Homes Editor Melissa Howes-Vitek writes, "If there is any one space that can and should reflect the personalities of the people living there, it is the entertainment space. For some (homeowners), nothing means relaxed and indulged more than a tricked-out media room."

In a companion piece to her article, HT Mart worked with Melissa on the "Entertainment Extras" piece titled, "Get the look!" Pleased with an "amazing selection of home theater products", Grapevine magazine decided to feature HT Mart and their product selection in "Get the look!" Some of the home theater decor products featured include a film reel clock, popcorn machine on a cart, poster case, and movie clapboard.
