

Charity Offers Spy Thriller Giveaway in Time for Holidays

Earth Action Right Now, a registered non-profit organization, joins with Deadly Exchange author, Geoffrey M. Gluckman, in giving away signed copies of his book to the first 100 people to donate to the organization. The promotion runs from now until year end.

December 10, 2007 (FPRC) -- DUMFRIES, VA -- Geoffrey M. Gluckman, author of the new spy thriller Deadly Exchange (www.deadlyexchangethenovel.com), has found a novel way to replenish what he took to publish his book by donating to Earth Action Right Now (EARN).

As well as donating 10 % of the proceeds from Deadly Exchange, he has come to a special agreement with EARN (www.earthactionrightnow.org) for the upcoming holiday season.

The first 100 people to make a donation of $50 or more to EARN will receive a free copy of Deadly Exchange autographed by Gluckman.

"Earth Action Right Now strives for the care, protection, and love of the Earth that I deeply respect. This is a very practical way for me to give something back to the Earth, and I would encourage others to do so by supporting EARN" explained Gluckman.

Deadly Exchange is Gluckman's first novel, a spy thriller dealing with the erosion of a great nation, terrorism, and the loss of personal freedom in an increasingly technological world.

Earth Action Right Now (EARN) strongly urges people to re-orient their thinking about our place in the world. The organization suggests that humans must earn their presence on Earth by taking actions that care for and protect the planet and its inhabitants each and every day.

Geoffrey M. Gluckman writes freelance features for such publications as Iron Horse Magazine, Credit Union Businesses, and Law Enforcement Technology. In writing this spy thriller he drew on his experiences as a federal agent for the U. S. government, recruitment by the CIA, and as an international lecturer.
