

A Revolution in Advertising is Taking Place to Rival Against Pay Per Click, and You Get Paid on 100% of Your Website Traffic

Over 66,000 advertisers have jumped on board to work with Net Audio Ads, a leader in online audio advertising. These advertisers are ready to pay you. Will you miss this great opportunity?

December 23, 2007 (FPRC) -- NetAudioAds are releasing a new advertising medium which is set to rock the online advertising world. With some of the big advertisers already signed up a raring to go.

"PPP is the only online advertising medium that is verified by an "independent" and unbiased third party."

"NetAudioAds (with its new search engine partner) now has the ability to serve up billions of 5 second audio ad plays and become the most powerful form of direct advertising the world has seen to date."

The Internet is famous for driving new and innovative ideas and technologies and this is one of the latest one. A new innovative technology has been developed and it is geared to rival the Google AdSense program. As a matter of fact ones website visitors don't have to do anything at all and the site owner gets paid.

First there was Pay Per Click advertising which pays you on the small percentage of website visitors that actually click on an advertisement. Now there is "Pay Per Play" advertising that will pay you on 100% of your website traffic. No clicks necessary. No selling necessary.

Pay Per Play caters to an audience that is larger than radio, television and print media combined! As you may know, major television networks are in trouble because their advertising revenue is dropping. They are losing market share at a dramatic pace.

Advertisers like Harley Davidson, HBO & Taco Bell are willing to pay you on 100% of your website traffic to make up for the loss of viewers that the big TV networks are experiencing.

For a limited time you have the ability to partner with these big advertisers for free and they are willing to pay you on 100% of your website traffic.
