

Announcing Diamond Distributors: Company Combines Internet Marketing with E-commerce

We are happy to announce the launching of Diamond Distributors, an E-Commerce organization that offers name brand and discount consumer goods and electronics.

January 14, 2008 (FPRC) -- The website: www.diadistributors.com, contains over 200,000 different consumer products and features hundreds of other items through our Internet marketing program. Our comprehensive inventory includes but is not limited to jewelry, apparel (men's and women's), cell phones and accessories, computers, sporting goods, video games, MP3/MP4 players (including ipods), health and beauty supplies, sporting goods, computers and accessories, auto parts, home and garden supplies and much, much more!

We also have an extensive Internet marketing affiliate program and even offer patrons an opportunity to start their own E-Commerce business directly through the website for a nominal fee. In addition, special offers can be found on the company's blog (<http://diamondpicks.blogspot.com>). The company plans to expand its services into EBay within 6 to 12 months.

Payments are accepted through Paypal and via most major credit cards. All orders are usually filled and shipped within one business day. Diamond Distributors offers only the finest products and combines reliable, secure shipping with exceptional customer service. If needed, we also feature an excellent return policy.

Please visit Diamond Distributors for all of your E-Commerce needs.
