

Sand Creek Massacre Film Kicking It Again!

"The Sand Creek Massacre" film pushes for national exposure!

April 30, 2008 (FPRC) -- CENTENNIAL, CO -- "The Sand Creek Massacre", an award-winning film as told from the perspective of the Cheyenne and Arapaho people, has been accepted as an entry in the MovieHatch.com online competition. The top selection will be put into production of up to $5,000,000 for a film, and a $1,000,000 production budget for a tv show. There will also be screenings at the Jackson Hole Film Festival for the final film production June 5-9, 2008.

Award-winning writer/filmmaker Donald L. Vasicek, the producer of "The Sand Creek Massacre", says this is a wonderful opportunity for helping create awareness for all native people and to share in an educational journey for everyone."

One simply needs to go to <http://moviehatch.com/jackson/>, view the film, click on vote and click on the number of stars you want to give it. That's all there is to it and it gives you an opportunity to have your voice heard.

Vasicek added, "If 'The Sand Creek Massacre' wins, I will put a feature film about the Sand Creek Massacre into production and also a mini-series about the Sand Creek Massacre. Get out there and vote folks and pass the word along to all others including your kids. This is our time to be heard!

Vasicek's web site, <http://www.sandcreekmassacre.net>, provides detailed information about the Sand Creek Massacre including various still images particularly on the Sand Creek Massacre home page and on the proposal page.

Olympus Films+, LLC is dedicated to writing and producing quality products that serve to educate others about the human condition.

Contact:

Donald L. Vasicek
The Writer/Filmmaker Whisperer
Olympus Films+, LLC
<http://www.donvasicek.com>
dvasicek@earthlink.net

###

Contact Information

For more information contact Donald L. Vasicek of Olympus Films+, LLC
(<http://www.donvasicek.com>)
303-903-2103

Keywords

western movies
native americans

racism

You can read this press release online here