

Fine Quality Wholesale Beads Available at 30% Below Retail

Beaded jewelry designers will enjoy reduced rates on wholesale beads from Beads of Cambay, the Internet's leading retailer of fine quality gemstone beads and freshwater pearls.

May 4, 2008 (FPRC) -- Lawrenceville, GA -- Beads of Cambay, the Internet's prominent resource for high quality gemstone beads and freshwater pearls, now offers generous wholesale discounts based on order quantity. Wholesale beads are available to all jewelry designers and beading enthusiasts with a valid tax ID number.

Price breaks on wholesale beads range from 10% to 30% based on total order value. Wholesale pricing applies to all beads in stock with the exception of silver, vermeil, copper and already discounted beads.

Those with a valid Tax ID need only to complete and fax the reseller certificate form to take advantage of wholesale pricing. Reseller certificate forms are available for download on the company's website.

Beads of Cambay is the premiere resource of exceptional quality beads for Jewelry Designers and bead enthusiasts whose product is centered on superb quality. Each of the gemstone beads, freshwater pearls, and other beads in our inventory are hand picked by expert professionals based on quality, luminescence, and styling.

"Not only does our inventory reflect the latest market trends by providing the newest stones, colors and shapes, we also evaluate every piece for quality. We won't allow a dull or bad product into the hands of our customers," says Arun Yadav, founder of Beads of Cambay.

Wholesale beads clients are encouraged to sign up for Beads of Cambay newsletter from the company's website, which offers sneak previews on new bead products, exclusive savings, and useful beading industry information.
