

Kris Merritt Joins Outsourced Accounting Services Company OSI As Director of Client Services

Kris Merritt, CPA has joined outsourced accounting services firm OSI as Director of Client Services.

May 10, 2008 (FPRC) -- Pompton Plains, NJ – OSI Business Services is excited to announce the addition of Kris Merritt, CPA to its staff.

As Director of Client Services, Merritt will be responsible for further enhancing the experience for clients of the outsourced accounting services firm.

Among many duties, Merritt will continue development of policies and procedures for the company's full charge bookkeepers and controllers, development and delivery of training, and development of enhanced financial reporting for clients.

Merritt will lead the team of outsourced bookkeepers, supervisors, and controllers to continually develop systems of communication for clients and their accountants using the most innovative solutions in online communication and accounting. Merritt will also work with clients to develop policies and procedures to streamline their accounting services and organize accounting resources to fulfill individual customer needs.

"We are thrilled to bring Kris onto the team to fill this important position. Her accounting and client services experience with Fortune 500 companies make her an ideal fit for OSI and it's clients," says Dennis Najjar, Managing Member of OSI.

Merritt's extensive background in both public and private accounting for large and small companies provides the necessary leadership experience to contribute to OSI's proven success. In her most recent position, portfolio controller, her development of the company's internal audit program and implementation of corporate policies drove consistency and profitability for her company.

OSI is an outsourced bookkeeping services company that provides daily high-level accounting services for small to mid-sized companies. The structure of the firm is such that companies can utilize top-level accountants and bookkeepers without the cost of hiring, training, and continually educating an in-house accountant. Each client is assigned a bookkeeper and controller to supervise the account. Clients' books are closed by the controller each month and issued a monthly financial report package.

About OSI Business Services: OSI Business Services, an outsourced accounting services firm, utilizes a 100% U.S. based staff providing outsourced online bookkeeping and accounting services to small, mid-size and fast growing businesses. The company is passionate about its mission to provide a high-level of customer support, deliver services in a timely, efficient and precise manner, and to continuously exceed client expectations.
