

Oasis China Visa Offers New Chinese Travel Visa Tracking System For Customers

Oasis China Visa is now including a tracking program with all their Chinese visa applications. Customers can now track their Chinese travel visa's progress step by step until it's completed.

August 6, 2008 (FPRC) -- POTOMAC, MARYLAND -- Visitors to China now have a new way to take care of and track their travel visas, all without leaving their houses.

Normally, travelers need to compile all the necessary documents and travel in person to the Chinese embassy before being allowed to enter China. Because there is only one embassy located in Washington, D.C. and just five consulate locations in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Houston, traveling to obtain Chinese visas can be a costly process.

'Oasis China Visa Services has eliminated the need for visitors to travel just to get their Chinese visa. Because we're familiar with this process, we're able to make sure all the documents are in order and we take the paperwork to the Chinese embassy for our clients, saving them time and money. Customers are able to track where their visa is during the entire process so there's no worry about a missing visa holding up travel plans. Our service is affordable, reliable and simple for our customers,' said Eric Tian, Manager of Oasis China Visa (<http://www.oasischinavisa.com/>).

Oasis China Visa is authorized to serve residents from all 50 states. They can assist with tourist visas, business visas, work visas, study visa and others visas. Oasis China Visa collects all the necessary fees associated with obtaining a Chinese travel visa and regular, rush, and express services are available.

Normal turnaround time is four to five business days from receiving the required documents to returning the completed Chinese visas. Rush services can be completed in 24 hours while express services can take as little as six hours. A tracking service is available with regular, rush and express services.

'Our new tracking system guarantees that our clients don't have to worry about the status of their visa. Clients will receive a tracking number when they register online and an email when we receive their package full of documents. This tracking system ensures that there's never a question about where your China visa application is,' said Tian.
