

South Carolina Kitchen Equipment Supply Company Expands Into Web Sales

J.E.S. Restaurant Equipment launches new e-commerce website

Greenwood, South Carolina (FPRC) August 12, 2008 -- After 8 years in business as a major supplier of restaurant, cafe and bakery equipment, J.E.S. Restaurant Equipment has announced the launch of its new e-commerce website: www.jesrestaurantequipment.com

The online store offers the same name-brand kitchen supplies that continue to be sold at the company's busy showroom in Greenwood, SC: Amana, Bunn O Matic, Groen, InSinkErator, and many more. The website sells over 21,000 different products including catering and cafe supplies, restaurant furniture, dishes, cooking equipment, bar supplies, home kitchen supplies, and more.

Vivian Smith of J.E.S. says having an Internet store will open the door to new opportunities, both for the kitchen equipment supply company and its customers.

'This new website is like having a big showroom in every part of the country. Now our customers can shop for and order professional kitchen supplies without having to travel to our store. Everybody wins – we expand our market base and our customers can shop more conveniently.'

Smith says even people not involved in the restaurant trade are welcome to order cooking equipment from the website and take advantage of wholesale prices. Free shipping is offered on select items. Products shipped out of state are not charged sales tax.
