Children's book author Robert Bernardini tees up another classic with the publication of his new book 'The Golfer's Night BeFORE! Christmas.'

August 20, 2008 (FPRC) -- The Christmas story every golfer has been waiting for is finally here! The Golfer's Night BeFORE! Christmas by Robert Bernardini reveals the truth about Santa's love for the game of golf - and a problem with his golf swing.

Dressed in red knickers, green thermal golf shirt, and golf shoes, Santa pauses on his rounds to hit a few practice shots off of a fellow golf enthusiast's roof. But there's a problem... Santa just can't stop hitting a slice!

His new golfing buddy comes to his rescue by offering a few tips and giving Santa a golf lesson right there on the roof on Christmas Eve. He tells Santa, "And keep your head steady, you don't want to sway... That belly of yours sometimes gets in the way!" Soon, Santa gets in the groove... "His backswing was slower, his wrists cocked a little... And this time he nailed that ball straight down the middle!"

Filled with golf language, traditions, humor, and class, this book is sure to make every golfer smile and rejoice in golfing satisfaction. Children will not only learn the amazing secrets of Santa's golf swing, but also be pleasantly surprised to find out where his golf balls end up after he hits them.

Companies can order their own custom versions of the book imprinted with their company logo and information for a wonderful seasonal gift for employees, clients, or tournament prize giveaways.
