

Ocean-attitude.tv, an Internet TV for Water Sports Fans

By September 27, 2008, Ocean-attitude.TV was launched. A free nautical Internet TV, attentive to the water sports fans, a televisual eye, an Internet expert and that's the ocean's videos website.

October 3, 2008 (FPRC) -- An Internet TV in French and English that will short become the water stories videos' rendezvous: sailing, beach, water sports, boats, environment, surfing, scuba diving and many more.

Why a nautical Internet TV?

We are millions of people to have a passion for water sports of all kinds. Unfortunately, The main television channels aren't always attentive to nautical events. Except for surfing or transatlantic races, it doesn't make a true dynamic. Then, we thought of creating an Internet TV.

Ocean-attitude.TV is a high quality television. Its founders are renowned French television professionals. Ocean-attitude.TV associates a televisual approach to to the web dynamic and interactivity.

How does it work?

The surfer chose a programme in a video library, freely watch it, as many times as he wants, and may debate with other fans or with the editorial staff.

Ocean-attitude.tv offers in a certain way an a la carte menu where you can select a precise activity among several hundreds videos. Several dozens videos are added every month. The Weekly magazine offers worldwide nautical news: guests, reportages, etc. Ocean-attitude.TV will be permanently aware of water sports events to share with its members.

Which columns?

Through reportage and news, Ocean-attitude.TV go meeting actors of the nautical world: ocean, sea, lake, or river. You will be able to discover living waters' sports such as Rafting or Canoe, or as well meet fly fishers in French Savoie or even tremendous yachts. Dream destinations are available for you: Brazil, New-Caledonia, Mauritius Island, Rodrigue and many more. You will discover surfers, divers, kite-surfers, windsurfers or famous sailors. The videos are organized by theme. It's then very easy to navigate through columns.

What are Ocean-attitude.TV's functions?

Ocean-attitude.TV offers a newsletter which frequency and themes are easily customized by each user to receive only what he cares about. Interactivity and the quality of debates between the members of the community gives Ocean-attitude.TV a rich content.

Members may also suggest videos. The editorial team watches the proposed videos and validate their interest for sports or culture before launching it.

What is the purpose of Ocean-attitude.TV ?

Attempt to cover most nautical events in France and worldwide, and promote the water sports.

Share our passion with many people. With a simple, pleasing, bilingual, well-rounded with professional videos and free, we found the means to reach our goals.
