

Cavalier DSL Services Now Available In Columbus, OH

Cavalier Telephone is proud to announce that High Speed DSL Internet service is now available to residential customers in Columbus, OH.

October 8, 2008 (FPRC) -- COLUMBUS, OH -- Cavalier Telephone, a familiar high speed internet and phone service provider is growing and expanding its services to Columbus, Ohio.

Cavalier is a total communications provider to residential and business customers alike, offering high speed Internet service, and complete telephone options, including local and long distance plans.

"Unlike some companies that have a limited focus, Cavalier can provide total communication services, including local phone with long distance service, combined with High Speed Internet service for both homes and businesses," said Ed Meyercord, CEO of Cavalier Telephone, LLC (<http://www.cavtel.com>).

"Residential customers in Columbus, OH now have an alternative to the high price of telephone service, local and long distance calling plans, and High Speed DSL Internet access. Our bundled $50 per month program is very popular with our customers. It includes High Speed Internet, plus unlimited local and unlimited long distance calling, for one flat price," added Meyercord.

The bundle gives customers the best value. Along with a High Speed Internet account customers receive:

- FREE High Speed Modem ($99 value with lifetime replacement)
- Self-install kit ($30 value)
- Download speeds up to 8 Mbps with no surcharge
- Pop-up blocker
- 3 email addresses
- Personal web space
- Support 24/7
- Unlimited local phone calls
- Unlimited long distance calls to all states and Canada
- Voice mail, caller ID, call waiting, call forwarding, call blocking, repeat dialing, three way calling and much more
