

Pearl Lovers and Enthusiasts Cheer as Pearls Prices Plummet

Eager to clear space for holiday inventory, businesses are willing to accept a loss to make room for new shipments. Pearls wholesaler - www.OrientalPearls.net, in San Diego, California holds a massive Pearls Clearance Sale with cultured drop pearl earrings under $2

October 8, 2008 (FPRC) -- Summer is over, and as fall races towards the holidays the clearance specials begin. Often the best sales appear before the holiday season even begins, and with finer gifts like cultured freshwater pearls, bargains are in demand. Eager to clear space for holiday inventory, many businesses are willing to accept a loss to make room for new shipments. www.OrientalPearls.net holds pearls sales with $1.99 for cultured drop pearl earrings.

High quality pearls are hard to come by, and harder still to find - especially ones as deeply discounted as the 80% off www.OrientalPearls.net is able to offer at their end of summer sale today. Pearls clearance items range from loose pearls on strands to pearl findings for hobbyists to create their high end cultured pearl jewelry, to finished pearl products for gifts as pearls make a perfect gift for the women in anyone's life, with more than thousands of choices.

With the cooler weather coming, cashmere sweaters and velvet dresses are in the offing, and this winter's fashion radar is telling us that pearls are going to be the 'in' look. The variety of shades and shapes available make pearls one of the most versatile forms of jewelry, and OrientalPearls.net carries a wide selection. Nearly every piece they sell can be made up with black, mauve, pink or white pearls in the customers choice of a gold or silver setting.

Currently pearls on sale at a huge discount are teardrop pearl earrings, cost $1.99, pearl pendant, pearl necklaces and a wide variety of seasonal items sure to make perfect Christmas, birthday, or 'just because' gifts. The attractive pearl charm bracelets now in stock are excellent gifts for young girls as a token of recognition for a good first school quarter, and wives or mothers will love the luxury pearl jewelry sets available at prices anyone can afford.

Employers are encouraged to look into buying bulk corporate gifts for businesses such as annual parties - the pricing for cultured pearls available from OrientalPearls.net is comparable to what they would pay for coffee mugs or other traditional gift bag items, yet the value is significantly greater. Also available is low flat rate shipping regardless of order size.

www.OrientalPearls.net is company based in California, with vast holdings in the Chinese water surface where the best freshwater pearls originate. After years of comprehensive study, their pearl farms are now renowned for the quality and luster of pearls produced. The company has a solid tradition of customer satisfaction and service excellence.

"Unlike other sites, our manufacturing unit is composed of professional jewelry makers who have been making pearl jewelry for store owners for years, therefore we have the capability of giving our customers the lowest prices with the highest valued products" said Lan Toma, the company's spokesperson. "If you receive your custom piece and it is a didn't come out the way you pictured it, send it back. We will work on it until it makes you happy."

"I like the detailed (accurate)description of each pearl item," a customer noted. " I feel like I know exactly what I am paying for. With their 90 day money back guarantee and office in the USA, I feel safe to place my orders. So far every penny I spent with them gives me back more than 10 times returns."

With the summer pearls clearance sale in full swing, the time to acquire stunning freshwater pearls at prices close or even below to cost, and to make your own jewelry for the upcoming holiday season is right now. www.OrientalPearls.net is committed to reducing their inventory before the end of the month, so would-be purchasers are urged to place their orders now.
