October 15, 2008 (FPRC) -- TUSTIN, CALIF. – Coreland Companies of Tustin, Calif., one of the largest private real estate service companies based in California, has opened a new Southern California regional office in the City of Brea, Calif., strategically located to better serve the northern Orange County market. This is Coreland's second Orange County office, which brings the total number in Southern California to nine offices. Last year, Coreland opened an office in Salt Lake City, Utah.

"Coreland Companies' expansion is a result of our continued effectiveness at optimizing the income-producing capabilities of our client's real estate assets," says Chris Hite, co-founder and president of Coreland Companies. "The opening of our new regional office, strategically located in Brea, will allow us to better serve our clients in the northern Orange and eastern Los Angeles counties."

"In these challenging economic times, our clients appreciate the high level of expertise and added value Coreland brings. We value our clients' trust and will continue to provide unparalleled property management, leasing and real estate services," Hite added.

Cynthia Swanson, a regional real estate manager based in Coreland's Tustin office, will relocate to the new Brea office and head up the office. The new Coreland office is located at 330 West Birch Street, Suite 201. Swanson has been with Coreland since 2005 and oversees the real estate management and operations for a portfolio consisting of retail and mixed-use properties located throughout Orange County. Prior to joining Coreland Companies, Swanson served as a property manager for a major real estate owner, successfully managing a 2.1-million-square-foot portfolio.
