

Cases.com Now Offers Piel Frama BlackBerry Bold SmartPhone Cases

A selection of quality leather Piel Frama cases for the Blackberry 9000 Series are now available at Cases.com.

November 4, 2008 (FPRC) -- AURORA, CO -- Cases.com recently announced it is now offering new BlackBerry Bold cases from popular Spanish manufacturer Piel Frama. The luxurious cases, made from the highest quality leather, are available in a wide selection of attractive colors, including black, tan, two-tone tan and black, red, green and blue. Each affordable BlackBerry Bold case is well appointed with a convenient and secure snap closure and a new easily removable belt clip system for added accessibility.

Cases.com provides a combination of high quality products and exceptional customer service, making it one of the leading handheld device accessory distributors online. An e-commerce reseller and distributor operated by Aluron, Inc, Cases.com offers a wide variety of accessories and cases for the best-selling PDAs, SmartPhones, cell phones, Pocket PCs, mp3 players and other handheld devices.

"We strive to offer our customers high quality handheld device cases and accessories that are both functional and attractive. The exceptional features of the new Piel Frama design, combined with the wide color choices available, allow us to offer the ultimate selection of BlackBerry Bold accessories and phone cases. We are confident the Piel Frama cases will soon be one of our top selling products for the Blackberry 9000 Series," says Alex German of Cases.com. (<http://www.cases.com>)

Each Piel Frama BlackBerry Bold case has passed strict quality control requirements and is expertly hand-made by a skilled leather craftsman. Unlike traditional phone cases, the expansive selection of appealing colors available in the new Piel Frama line gives customers the flexibility to customize their handheld accessories. Unique features of the case include a soft, luxurious leather lining, convenient sync through travel cable cutout, and functional document compartment and money pocket for added appeal. Each stylish case also contains a small, hidden magnet that conveniently keeps the phone in stand-by mode while the case is securely closed.

The case manufacturer, Piel Frama, specializes in producing beautiful, soft, leather-cushioned cases specifically designed for popular handheld devices. The firm uses only the finest quality cowhide leather and is renowned worldwide for offering a wide variety of versatile handheld cases in appealing, vivid color selections.

"By dealing directly with premium manufacturers from around the world such as Piel Frama, we are able to offer the highest quality cases and accessories currently available on the market. Our luxurious line of BlackBerry 9000 Series cases provides affordable, functional and stylish phone protection. Additionally, our great selection, fast shipping and user-friendly site makes shopping at Cases.com a positive and convenient experience for all of our customers," says German.
