

Wholesale Bead Distributor, Beads Of Cambay Offers Free Shipping On Orders Over $100

Leading online bead supplier, BeadsofCambay.com, is now offering free shipping on orders of wholesale beads over $100, as well as reduced shipping on orders for International and Canadian customers.

November 7, 2008 (FPRC) -- LAWRENCEVILLE, GA -- Leading online bead distributor BeadsofCambay.com is now offering their selection of wholesale beads, sterling silver beads, copper beads, brass beads, vermeil beads, briolette, and freshwater pearls with free shipping on orders totaling more than $100. In addition, the company is providing reduced shipping charges on orders for International and Canadian customers.

The company's unique gemstone beads feature the rich colors, smooth edges and dramatic quality that professional jewelry designers around the world demand. Gemstone beads are categorized by type, color, shape and quantity with additional discounts being offered on volume purchases.

"We are very proud to be one of the leading online wholesalers of a wide variety of gemstone beads. As a thank you to our loyal customers and in celebration of the upcoming holiday season, we felt it was fitting to offer free shipping on orders over $100. Our business model has always placed an emphasis on providing our customers quality beads at affordable prices. It is our hope that our valued customers will use this free shipping as an opportunity to order the quantities they need for the holidays without worrying about shipping costs," said Arun Yadav of Beads of Cambay (<http://www.beadsofcambay.com>).

New wholesale partners can also register with the company to receive a resale certificate, increasing their level of savings. Once the resale certificate is received and approved, buyers can then start taking advantage of the wholesale prices. Wholesale bead discounts are calculated during checkout after approval of the resale certificate -- providing an additional savings to customers.

Volume discounts are based on the dollar amount of beads purchased. Wholesale bead orders from $50 - $99 are discounted 10 percent; $100 - $499 are discounted 20 percent; $500 - $999 are discounted 25 percent; and orders over $1000 are discounted 30 percent.

The bead supplier regularly offers an array of the latest beads available through their online inventory. New arrivals, the latest materials, specials and featured wholesale beads make up the offerings available to clients of Beads of Cambay. The site's unique array of hand-selected beads paired with the shipping offer means that clients get a better value for their purchase dollars.

Customers shouldn't miss taking advantage of this offer, proclaimed Arun Yadav. "Beads of Cambay is constantly updating and adding new gemstone beads to our inventory. Our staff members are all bead enthusiasts and jewelry designers. They hand-pick unique beads from the inventory, which means that our client's designs will end up being one of a kind."
