AllAmericanBling.com announces special holiday shopping deals for Black Friday, November 28, and Cyber Monday, December 1, 2008.

November 16, 2008 (FPRC) -- AllAmericanBling.com, the up and coming gift and shopping website, will be expanding its post Thanksgiving holiday specials from one shopping day to two this year, due to what the website's spokesman is describing as "economic demad."

"AllAmericanBling.com is excited to announce we are adding Black Friday specials, as well as continuing our Cyber Monday deals. For the past two years, we have featured fantastic deals on Cyber Monday, the Monday after Thanksgiving. This year, we will be offering the same sort of great values for Black Friday, the Friday after Thanksgiving," said Jeff Young, spokesman for AllAmericanBling.com.

The Black Friday specials will be found at www.AllAmericanBling.com/BlackFriday on Friday, November 28, 2008.

The Cyber Monday deals will be found at www.AllAmericanBling.com/CyberMonday on Monday, December 1, 2008.

"We will be featuring the fun, unusual bling we are known for, and also offer amazing deals on everyday, all American bling that everyone recognizes. Razr Phones, iPods, Wii gaming consoles, Samsung high-definition televisions, to name but a few. There will be bargains to be had in our Toy Department, our Jewelry Store, and in our huge selection of clothing," Young declared.

"It's a tough economy out there. People expect deals this holiday season. This year, our shoppers will have two days to get special deals, not just one. The deals will be fantastic!" Young claimed, "They will have to be! Consumers expect bargains in this economy, so Black Friday and Cyber Monday are the days AllAmericanBling.com will deliver. I can't reveal all of the bargains at this time, but I can tell you we will have Motorola Razr Phones available for one cent, and an amazingly low price on an Apple iPod Shuffle," Young said.

"Shoppers at www.AllAmericanBling.com will be able to get free shipping on most orders over $25 on Black Friday and Cyber Monday, and some goods will have free shipping no matter what size of order is placed." according to Young.

"Black Friday has always been an important date to retailers, this year, given the economy, it may be an even more important date for offering bargains. Same is true for Cyber Monday for internet retailers such as AllAmericanBling.com," Young said.

Black Friday developed as the traditional kick off date for the Christmas shopping season at brick and mortar stores. Cyber Monday is a trend noted by the National Retail Federation that the Monday after Thanksgiving, internet retail sales increase strongly over a typical Monday.

“These days, it’s more important than ever for consumers to feel not only that they are getting bargains, but they are saving gas, time, and money. That is why internet shopping is the one bright spot in retailing. We make it convenient to save time and money,” said Young.

AllAmericanBling.com is the up and coming shopping and gift website from Vista Virtual, LLC. The site keeps consumers up with the hottest “bling” including Razr Phones, iPhone accessories, iPods, jewelry, the latest in clothing, and toys.
