Menaul Fine Art Gallery (www.menaul-art.com) releases a custom artwork holiday gift plan that lets you give innovative abstract art in the exact size and color combinations your favorite person wants: letting you give a gift that will be appreciated and long remembered.

November 17, 2008 (FPRC) -- Scott Menaul of Menaul Fine Art Gallery (www.menaul-art.com) has just released a custom abstract art holiday gift plan to help those stumped over what to give the special people in their life. One of the toughest parts of the holidays is finding that special, unique, impressive gift that shows you really do listen and care.

The Menaul Fine Art Gallery has an innovative solution for you. Their holiday custom abstract art plan allows you to customize any artwork on their website, or they will create a new piece to fit your specific needs. The piece can be an original work of art, limited edition giclée canvas or paper giclées and they will customize the artwork to accommodate your color palette, sizing and proportions. The piece can be on one canvas or created into a diptych (2 panel canvas piece) or triptych (3 panel canvas piece).

Menaul has spent 12 years creating his medium using 3-D modeling, illustration and photo enhancement tools to produce his fresh, captivating abstract works of art that are uplifting to those who see them. Menaul, who spent 25 years as a technical writer, graphic designer and photographer says, "I was never quite satisfied with the results of my medium, feeling more could be achieved with it. So I experimented and developed more techniques until I achieved the results you now see. And I continue to push the envelope with my tools to create the art of the future today."

In the true spirit of the holidays, Menaul wants to help people stressed over the perfect gift search and to help the receiver with an aesthetic gift that would lift their spirit as well. "Let us know what your needs are and what you are thinking, and we will work with you to deliver a unique and inspiring piece that will thrill those special people on your Christmas gift list," say Menaul, owner of the Menaul Fine Art Gallery. "It's as easy as asking the person for their favorite colors, or look at the colors in the room the artwork would hang, measure the area, and email the information to us. You can even take a photo of the wall or room and email it to us and we can insert the artwork to create a digital preview."

They even have a "Guide to Buying Artwork" on their website at www.menaul-art.com and selections for all pocketbook sizes.

It's a holiday gift idea worth checking out. You could have your holiday gift shopping done earlier with impressive custom designed gifts of art and be able to relax and enjoy the season with family and friends.
