January 3, 2009 (FPRC) -- The year 2008 had been a difficult one for investors, to say the least. It has been especially difficult for those close to retirement or those currently retired who depend on their investments for income. There is an answer for this concern however, as a new product for Canadians developed by Manulife Financial fills the gap for growth potential with a guaranteed lifetime income. The complete details can be had at www.yoursafeincome.com.

The web site goes into detail about Manulife's new IncomePlus product. According to the site, IncomePlus not only offers all the growth potential of the stock market but also provides for a minimum retirement income for life. It states that growth potential is important since retirees need to be able to keep up with inflation, however, the risk associated with stock market investing is more than many investors can cope with. IncomePlus takes the risk out of the market through this innovative new investment product.

The site owner goes on to state that 'not only does IncomePlus provide peace of mind when it comes to investing for retirement income but it also provides the traditional insurance benefits of a 'segregated investment' such as death guarantee, privacy and probate avoidance (upon death, assets pass outside of the will and probate)'.

Further he states that 'IncomePlus also gives investors a 5% bonus on their investment for every year the investment is not drawn down on. This is true no matter how the markets are performing.'
