

Homeschooling Resource Center Offers Free Advice On How To Successfully Homeschool Children

Christian home schooling resource, HomeschoolingResourceCenter.org, offers a wealth of helpful, relevant homeschooling advice for parents with kids ranging in age from preschool to high school.

March 13, 2009 (FPRC) -- FENTON, MI -- Popular Christian home schooling resource, the Homeschooling Resource Center, recently announced that free homeschooling advice, teaching tips, product reviews and more are available online at <http://www.HomeschoolingResourceCenter.org>.

From advice to parents initially starting the homeschooling process to more advanced tips for homeschooling veterans, the Homeschooling Resource Center offers a wealth of information to help parents choose the most effective Christian homeschool curriculum to meet the specific needs of their family.

Originally started by homeschooling parents looking for a complete online homeschooling resource, the Homeschooling Resource Center is becoming a leading online reference for Christian homeschooling families to enjoy. The website specializes in Christian homeschool curriculum with numerous Christian homeschooling teaching tips and inspirational pages.

The Homeschooling Resource Center offers timely and accurate homeschooling information to parents of kids of all ages. Through numerous product reviews to help parents select the best homeschool textbooks, to abundant articles and reviews on the most effective curriculum choices, the Homeschooling Resource Center strives to be the best homeschooling website available today.

“The Homeschooling Resource Center was created because as homeschooling parents we couldn’t find a website that offered solid information about Christian homeschooling. We decided that we needed a method for sharing homeschooling information with others. We hope to be able to help parents create a positive, nurturing homeschooling environment for their children,” says Lori Coeman of the Homeschooling Resource Center. With a special section dedicated to high school at home, the Homeschooling Resource Center helps guide parents through the difficult high school years. In addition to high school homeschool advice and curriculum recommendations, the Homeschooling Resource Center also offers effective learning strategies for middle school curriculum and even preschool homeschool. By joining the mailing list at HomeschoolingResourceCenter.org, parents will enjoy monthly newsletters with money saving coupons, as well as access to an even greater number of articles and resources available on the website.

In addition to being a free resource for homeschooling advice, the Homeschooling Resource Center has dedicated sponsors that can provide parents with the best homeschooling supplies. HomeschoolingBooks.com and ChristianStoryBooks.com have been major supporters of this new informational site.

“We strongly believe homeschooling is a God-ordained and powerful means of teaching our children. Our passion is to simply give parents the resources and tools they need to effectively homeschool their children so they can experience the best education possible,” says Lori Coeman.

About Homeschooling Resource Center: A premier Christian home schooling resource online, the Homeschooling Resource Center (<http://www.HomeschoolingResourceCenter.org>) is committed to providing timely and accurate information for parents of children of all ages to enjoy. Offering a wide variety of general homeschooling articles, reviews of homeschool textbooks, as well as recommendations for the best homeschooling supplies, the Homeschooling Resource Center is one of the most effective homeschooling tools available today.
