April 19, 2009 (FPRC) -- AURORA, CO – Premier electronic device cases and accessories online superstore Cases.com has announced the recent arrival of its new, exotic collection of Vaja cases. Constructed using the finest quality leather from Argentina, Vaja luxurious cases were previously only available through custom orders placed directly with the manufacturer. Through Cases.com, customers around the world can now receive these luxury cases within a few business days.

To better serve its customers, Cases.com has partnered exclusively with Vaja to offer an inventory of premium cases that are available in sizes to fit several of the most popular handheld devices. Currently, Cases.com offers a selection of Vaja cases for Apple iPhone 3G, BlackBerry Bold (9000), BlackBerry Storm (9530), BlackBerry Curve (8300), and the new BlackBerry Curve (8900).

Cases.com previously offered a selection of Vaja cases, but were unfortunately forced to discontinue their inventory when Vaja began producing cases solely on a custom order basis. However, Cases.com has once again partnered with Vaja to provide its customers with a stunning collection of exceptional quality leather cases. By combining some of the most popular color options and standardizing the cases to better fit its clientele, Cases.com now offers a variety of Vaja cases for the most popular phone styles, including black cases with belt clips and red cases without belt clips. Additionally, Cases.com's inventory includes pocket style cases without belt clips, available in both black and red.

Each handcrafted Vaja case available at Cases.com is constructed using the finest quality leather. The fine Argentina leather was hand selected for its strength, quality, character and grain and has not been altered in any way, allowing the natural beauty and markings of the leather to be showcased in each case design. Cases.com offers Vaja cases featuring four types of premium leather, including Caterina, Vitelino, Aniline, and Floater styles.

"Vaja cases are some of the most beautiful and exotic handheld device cases available on the market today. Cases.com is thrilled to offer our customers such a fine selection of premium quality leather cases. Each luxurious Vaja case is simply a work of art," says German.
