

US Medical Supplies Now Offers the Medical Alarm System

US Medical Supplies has announced that the Medical Alarm System, an exclusive emergency service, is now available at their online store at usmedicalsupplies.com. Users of the service know that, if an accident happens, help is available at the push of a button.

April 23, 2009 (FPRC) -- US Medical Supplies, an online retailer of over 10,000 medical supplies and mobility products, now offers an important service for seniors or the disabled. The Medical Alarm System is a subscription-based service that promotes independent living by giving seniors and their loved ones better peace of mind. The system works with an existing phone line in the home. If a subscriber has had an accident or has been injured, help will be available immediately at the push of a button.

The Medical Alarm System eliminates the need to fumble with a phone to call for emergency service. The service comes with a device that functions like a two-way intercom system. The device has a big, easy-to-use, "emergency" button, which automatically connects the user to a trained professional at the monitoring center. The service also comes with a portable device with an emergency button, which can be worn as a bracelet or necklace.

The monitoring service that supports the Medical Alarm System is operational 24 hours a day, 365 days per year. The professionals that answer the alerts calmly ask the user what happened, then contact local emergency services as necessary and inform them of any medical issues or conditions they should be aware of. By using this service, seniors don't need to worry about having an accident and nobody there to help. As long as they are within reach of their Medical Alarm device, they can call for help. Furthermore, they won't have to dial 911 (which can be a real task if you're injured) and they won't have to wait on hold before someone helps them.

US Medical Supplies is proud to offer this service at its online store at usmedicalsupplies.com. In its continuing effort to provide everything seniors may need to remain independent, offering this service makes a great deal of sense. "We have almost every kind of mobility aid and medical product available, but this is different. This is the best precaution our customers can take against severe accidents when they're home alone," said Tim Ziehwein, US Medical Supplies' Vice-President of Sales.

The Medical Alarm System is a subscription-based service, and all equipment and setup is included in the monthly fee. More information on this helpful service is available at usmedicalsupplies.com.
