

ReplacementCounters.com Adds A New Line Of HiMacs Countertops And Stainless Steel Sinks To Its Inventory

Leading online countertop fabricator, ReplacementCounters.com, now offers LG Hi Macs countertops, as well as a new line of Artisan 18G stainless steel kitchen sinks.

April 28, 2009 (FPRC) -- SOMERSET, NJ – ReplacementCounters.com, a premier online source for countertops, has added a new line of countertops and stainless steel sinks to its wide selection of high quality kitchen and bath surfaces. The company's newest solid surface countertop line, LG Hi Macs, is available in more than 75 unique color choices to match any home's décor. Additionally, ReplacementCounters.com's new Artisan 18G stainless steel sinks allow customers to choose from a selection of eight popular sink designs.

"With the addition of the new Hi Macs countertops and Artisan 18G stainless steel sinks, our customers have an even wider selection of superior quality kitchen and bathroom surface solutions that are perfect for transforming any space quickly and affordably," says Peter Quense, General Manager of ReplacementCounters.com.

Like Corian, LG Hi Macs is a solid surface countertop made from a non-porous material that offers a consistent color and pattern. Although it is available in multiple levels of sheen, the standard finish is matte, which requires very little maintenance. For added convenience, LG Hi Macs countertops are heat resistant, although they can be damaged when exposed to a concentration of extreme heat. ReplacementCounters.com offers a wide color selection of LG Hi Macs countertops to complement any kitchen or bath design. From neutral Almond Pearl, to a bolder Santorini pattern, LG Hi Macs countertops are both affordable and beautiful.

In addition to new LG Hi Macs countertops, ReplacementCounters.com now stocks a selection of Artisan 18G stainless steel sinks. The sleek and attractive sinks are available in a variety of shapes including both single and double bowl designs.

"Many people don't think they can afford to update their kitchens or baths. However, replacement counters and sinks are affordable solutions that can make a dramatic difference to an existing living space and dramatically increase a home's resale value -- oftentimes more than paying for the cost of the countertops and installation," says Quense.

As a premier countertop fabricator, ReplacementCounters.com is committed to providing high quality products and exceptional customer service. Unlike most other countertop companies, ReplacementCounters.com offers same day countertop removal and installation to help its customers avoid the hassle and inconvenience of living without a completed kitchen or bath. The Replacement Counter's expansive countertop product offering includes granite, quartz, marble, solid surface, recycled glass and more, as well as a wide selection of fine stainless steel and Corian sinks and faucets.

About ReplacementCounters.com: Leading online countertop resource, ReplacementCounters.com, is a premier provider of high quality and affordable kitchen and bath surfaces.
