

Online Health Insurance Quote Resource, HealthInsuranceFinders.com, Reopens Free Advice Center

To help customers during difficult economic times, HealthInsuranceFinders.com, an online health insurance quote resource, has reopened its advice center to offer free, unbiased, professional insurance advice.

June 3, 2009 (FPRC) -- MIAMI, FL – Premier online health insurance quote resource, HealthInsuranceFinders.com, recently announced that it has reopened its free insurance advice center to better serve its customers. The advice center, which is managed by health insurance specialists with years of experience in one of the most complex industries, provides live, fresh and accurate insurance information.

As a leading online resource for health insurance information, HealthInsuranceFinders.com strives to help customers find affordable health insurance options without sacrificing coverage. HealthInsuranceFinders.com's new advice center is the only place on the Internet to provide users with a prompt response to even the most personal and complicated insurance questions. If a customer's question qualifies for an answer, he or she will receive a response catered specifically to the situation at hand rather than having to rely solely upon referencing a list of pre-determined frequently asked questions.

"With current economic conditions, more and more customers are facing new insurance challenges. Whether you're looking for unemployment insurance options, or trying to establish small business health insurance plans, HealthInsuranceFinders.com is a one-stop resource to meet all of your insurance information needs. Through the reopening of our online advice center, our customers now enjoy an even greater level of personal service," says Grace Della, VP of Online Marketing for HealthInsuranceFinders.com.

HealthInsuranceFinders.com is a welcome resource for many people during these difficult economic times. With people losing their jobs, right now more than ever customers are seeking guidance from those who have vast knowledge of the health insurance industry. HealthInsuranceFinders.com's newly reopened online advice center provides unbiased, free advice catered to customers' specific needs.

Instead of visiting hundreds of social media sites where answers are posted by regular people and not necessarily experts, HealthInsuranceFinders.com takes the time and puts the right resources together to provide customers with the most accurate answers to challenging insurance questions. If questions are answered by the general public, and corrections need to be made, the experts at HealthInsuranceFinders.com will comment on them to make answers more accurate. Additionally, if the experts at HealthInsuranceFinders.com are unable to offer customers accurate answers to their insurance questions, customers will be promptly re-directed to alternative resources that can provide the answers they seek.

"At HealthInsuranceFinders.com, we are committed to empowering our customers with the knowledge they need to make informed health insurance decisions. The health insurance industry can be a difficult one to navigate on your own, which is why it is more important than ever for customers to do their homework before committing to a health insurance plan. Our new advice center is a fantastic free resource for professional and timely insurance information," says Della.
