June 8, 2009 (FPRC) -- KEY WEST, FL - Best On Key West, a leading Key West Florida tour company, recently announced it was offering a variety of fun and exciting Key West tours to help visitors participate in national 'Be A Kid Again Day' on July 8, 2009. This celebratory day is held annually to help adults remember the enjoyment and excitement of childhood.

Best On Key West has prepared several fun-filled Key West tours to help adults recapture their youth. The firm's special Key West Ghost Tour takes adults back to their days of swapping ghost stories around a campfire. In this unique and spooky tour, participants navigate the narrow and historic Key West streets by foot as a knowledgeable tour guide leads them with the light of a single lantern. Guests learn of Old Town Key West's creepy past on this one and half hour tour, which has been featured on popular shows on the Travel Channel, Discovery Channel and more.

In addition to the Key West Ghost Tour, Best On Key West also encourages guests to be like a kid again on its exclusive Key West bicycle adventure, Lloyd's Tropical Bike Tour. Even if guests haven't ridden a bicycle since childhood, they will remember how to ride quickly as they explore Key West on two wheels during this 4.5-mile, two-hour guided tour. Lloyd's Tropical Bike Tour is a relaxed and easygoing tour that takes guests past some of the most historic sites of Key West.

For the thrill-seekers, Best On Key West also offers morning and afternoon parasailing excursions. Guests on the parasailing tour will recapture their youth as they enjoy the thrilling excitement of trying something new for the first time. This fun and safe adventure includes state-of-the art parasailing equipment. From 600 feet above the water, guests enjoy panoramic views of Key West's pristine ocean, and the creatures that live beneath it.
