

Cary Real Estate Agent Mike Montpetit Incorporates Strategies To Sell Cary Homes Faster

Upon returning from the Turning Point Conference, Cary Realtor Mike Montpetit offers Cary home sellers access to industry-leading home selling strategies used by the nation's best and brightest in real estate sales.

June 23, 2009 (FPRC) -- RALEIGH, NC -- Mike Montpetit Broker in Charge of Cary Real Estate Agency Town & Country Realty, has added a new array of strategies designed to sell homes faster -- despite the economy. Montpetit recently attended one the top educational real estate conferences, the 2009 Turning Point by Buffini & Company, where he acquired knowledge and techniques from some of top minds in the industry.

Presented by internationally acclaimed educator and trainer, Brian Buffini, this conference brought together over 1,500 of the most progressive, forward-thinking professionals in real estate today to share their methods of success.

"We believe in investing in training programs like the Turning Point Conference to ensure the very best service for our clients. This is why we continue to offer our 'sold in 60 days or we pay you $500' guarantee -- in any economic climate. We are that certain about our ability to quickly move Cary NC homes for sale," said Montpetit.

The Turning Point Conference and Brian Buffini's Systems offer tools and resources to provide the highest quality of service to clients. Among the information covered in this year's conference were the top six mistakes that sellers can make when selling a home, as well as guidelines for evaluating and hiring a real estate professional. As a public service, Mike Montpetit has made these two reports available to Cary area residents at no charge.
