

Austin Auto Glass Repair And Replacement Mobile Company Blesses Texas With Free Pizza.

Austin Windshields auto glass repair announce new and novel approach to get customers attention: Free Pizza. You can now get a free large family pizza with a new windshield purchase.

June 26, 2009 (FPRC) -- In today's market, most customers express a preference to use the internet to find local businesses instead of 'traditional' resources like the Yellow Pages; this makes having an online presence a clear necessity. But some savvy small businesses like Austin Windshields auto glass repair have risen above local competitors by launching an local online advertising campaign that highlights what makes their business unique; they make service as hassle-free as possible for the customer by coming directly to them for windshield repair or replacement. Although free pizza and auto glass are not a classic combination, it does seem to give families a nice treat and it seems to take the 'chore' out of getting your windshield replaced.

Turning to the internet was the next logical step for Austin Windshields which already has a significant presence in Austin, Tx. Early adoption of the trend towards local internet marketing not only provides them with access to the thousands of locals who utilize the internet first to find local businesses, but more importantly illustrates to their potential clients that they are abreast of industry trends and technology.

As stated by Owner J Allen Hudson 'Our mission is to provide quality auto glass replacement and windshield chip repair at a fair price AND to make autoglass and windshield chip repair easy by providing fast mobile service to anywhere you are. We strive to keep our customers satisfied by offering affordable, competitive services, unmatched service and quality workmanship and the best quality premium glass available. And who doesn't love free pizza?' That unique strategy has been the key to their success; Austin Windshields is confident that sharing their strengths and services using the internet will serve them as well in the future as it has in the past. On the internet, just as off of it, the unique stories and strengths of each business are what drive success.
