

Blu Electronic Cigarette (blucigs.com) Ready To Ship?

The 22nd is here and Blu electronic cigarette is getting ready to start taking orders again. With blucigs.com at a stand still for the last 3 weeks many are wondering if Blu is ready to deliver.

July 19, 2009 (FPRC) -- It has been nearly three weeks now since Blu electronic cigarettes has closed it's virtual doors and stopped taking orders. However the 22nd of July, 2009 is almost upon us and so it is once again time for Blu electronic cigarettes to start taking orders for its popular electronic cigarette starter kit.

When Blu electronic cigarette first opened in May of 2009 they never expected to be so popular. The first shipment of their popular Blu electronic cigarette starter kits was suppose to last close to three months. If that was the case they would have had plenty of time to get restocked up. However the shipment that they where hoping to last three months barely lasted three weeks. Forcing them to start taking back orders.

Since then Blu electronic cigarette and their manufacturers have been trying to simply keep up with the demand for their popular electronic cigarette starter kit. Since the opening they where able to get another couple of shipments of their electronic cigarette starter kits back in stock. However it was still not enough to get everybody's orders out. Causing them to put a temporarily pause on taking new orders in order to save their reputation.

In the last couple of weeks the staff of Blu electronic cigarette has been working frantically to get this overnight successes ducks in a row just in time for their re-opening. During this short time the president of Blu electronic cigarette (Jason Healy) and a few others have endured the plane ride overseas to China. The purpose of this spur of the moment trip was to speak with the company that manufacturers their electronic cigarette starter kits.

It seems that things may finally be getting better for Blu electronic cigarette, with rumors that things went well on their trip to China. Hopefully the manufacturer will be able to kick things into high gear and meet the high production demands of the Blu electronic cigarette company.

On the 16th of July, 2009 Blu electronic cigarette received a huge shipment of electronic cigarette starter kits that should be able to fulfill their current long list of pending orders. In the mean time Blu electronic cigarette has also recently hired in more staff to pack and ship orders as well as investing in a much larger warehouse.

When asked about the Blu electronic cigarette dilemma Terry Brazil the owner of popular electronic cigarette site Perfect Electronic Cigarette has this to say. "Blu electronic cigarette is a good company with a great product, not to mention the price is right! Blu electronic cigarette simply had a minor issue with what we call business explosion. Meaning they simply grew to big, to quickly. This caused them to have some problems but everything seems to be ironed out now and we can all expect to see great things happen with Blu electronic cigarette."
