

Croftgate Direct Announces Distribution of CroftgateUSA's High Performance Eco-responsible Car Care Product Line

Croftgate Direct is the World's Premier Distributor of CroftgateUSA's brand of car care products. CroftgateUSA products are high performance, superior to anything on the market, and are Eco-Responsible.

August 12, 2009 (FPRC) -- Miami, Florida -- Croftgate Direct would like to announce the global launch of its online website and the distribution agreement of CroftgateUSA car care products. CroftgateUSA products are High Performance Eco-Responsible and are superior to any car care products currently on the market. More information can be found at <http://CroftgateDirect.com>

We are Croftgate Direct, an authorized distributor of CroftgateUSA products. This product line is brand new and extremely unique. The 'Tire Shine' degreases your wheel and shines your tire in one motion and can be used on your leather seats, dashboard, and trim around your vehicle? A product like this did not exist on the market until now.

CroftgateUSA products are formulated with the highest quality ingredients by a team of scientists dedicated to producing quality products with the lowest environmental impact.

Croftgate Direct is pleased to say that we are the premier online distributor of these products.

The company behind CroftgateUSA has been in business since 1952 and just launched the CroftgateUSA brand. The Croftgate brand itself has been around for many years, but has not been available in the United States until now.

Two products alone, Aquanil-X and Tire Shine, are enough to perform a complete detail of a vehicle including wax. These two CroftgateUSA products replace numerous other products on the market. And are eco-responsible. A bottle of Aquanil-X will wash and wax 6-9 cars depending on how dirty and the size of the cars.

Aquanil-X is actually a waterless car wash and wax, not just a detailing spray. While many car enthusiasts use Aquanil-X to 'finish' their vehicles once arriving at car show locations or after they have traditionally washed their cars, Aquanil-X is really designed to be used as a complete waterless car wash and wax.

Aquanil-X is CroftgateUSA's advanced blend of detergents, advanced waxes and multiple macro polymers. Aquanil-X first breaks down and then suspends dirt and grime. Aquanil-X then replaces it with a protective layer of macro polymers and waxes, leaving your vehicle clean and with a longer lasting shine.

In addition to an online presence, Croftgate Direct also opened a storefront location located near Fort Lauderdale, Florida and has been showing and supplying these superior products to high end car dealerships in the area. The CroftgateUSA line of products is new in name, but will soon be the premier name in detailing and car shows around the world.
