

Partnership Allows Home Improvement Contractors to Offer Profitable Vent-Free Fireplace Installation

Stone Fireplace Kit, manufacturers of ventless fireplace kits, has launched a partner program with handyman companies and home improvement companies across the USA.

September 11, 2009 (FPRC) -- GOLDSBORO, NC – Vent free fireplace manufacturer, Stone Fireplace Kit has introduced a nationwide partner program that allows home improvement companies and handyman companies add a profitable revenue stream to their business.

The partner program allows home repair companies to purchase fireplace kits from the company at reduced rates offer the product and installation at their own set rates. The partner program is an innovative way to help home improvement experts provide an excellent and revolutionary product to consumers while adding more revenue to their business.

"Our ventless fireplaces can be installed in one to three days and yet create the look of a traditional, built-in majestic fireplace. They are also an excellent way for homeowners to improve the aesthetics and the resale value of their home at a price that is drastically lower than installing a chimney and fireplace," says Daryl Lassiter, founder of Stone Fireplace Kit.com.

Stone Fireplace Kits provides free standing fireplaces that do not require tearing down of walls for installation. These revolutionary vent free fireplaces take just one to three days to construct, as opposed to the weeks and months required by traditional fireplace installations, making it a time and cost effective fireplace solution.

Unlike other gas fireplaces that stop at the mantle, Stone Fireplace Kits are complete floor to ceiling fireplaces designed that offer a built-in, classic fireplace look.

"A traditional fireplace installation requires much effort and can be very expensive for consumers while the stone fireplace kit offers a less intrusive, less expensive installation process. The product is easy to promote and sell -- customers immediately realize the cost effectiveness of the ventless fireplace kits as it will save them the hassle of a major home renovation," concludes Lassiter.

Stone Fireplace Kits' vent free fireplaces are self contained and come in many choices of size and depth. All can be customized with the customer's choice of stone masonry and accessories to achieve a variety of looks.
