October 11, 2009 (FPRC) -- Anti-Ageing Products, Inc. is picking qualified Distributors for its November launch of The World's First Patented Resveratrol Beverage, Nutra Resveratrol Anti-Ageing Water.™

The intellectual property as it relates to the bio availability of its proprietary resveratrol formulations, combined with global demand for resveratrol as an anti-ageing compound, has the scientific community as well as the public's demand for anti-ageing products eagerly anticipating the USA launch of Nutra Resveratrol Anti-Ageing Water.™

The science behind Nutra Resveratrol Anti-Ageing Water™ is based on granted & pending patents. Nutra Resveratrol's anti-ageing formulations with DMAE can contain over 1000 times the resveratrol levels normally found in red wine. At the same time these formulations are believed to be more bio available than resveratrol pills that are currently flooding the market place. Scientists at Anti-Ageing Products, Inc. have cautioned that simply adding Resveratrol to a beverage may not only infringe on Nutra Resveratrol's Intellectual Property, but the compound will not be as effectively absorbed in the body without the Nutra Resveratrol formulation. In addition, the DMAE in these beverages has been shown to tighten & firm the skin & reduce fine lines & wrinkles.

Resveratrol is found in grapes, red wine, purple grape juice, & some berries, & has been shown to Prolong Life Span & Retard The Onset Of Age-Related Markers.

An unexpected discovery in recent clinical testing of additional benefits of Nutra Resveratrol, found that the formulations seem to have increased hydration compared to that of current Sport Drink leaders.
