

Forex Broker Announce Lowest Forex Trading Spread Fees

CH Devisen Macht, a new forex broker in the Swiss forex trading market, announces an array of features that surely will make life a lot easier for forex traders.

October 24, 2009 (FPRC) -- In a significant move, CH Devisen Macht, a new forex broker in the Swiss forex trading market, is offering several new features that enable forex traders to gain more profits and perform trading more smoothly. Features such as very low transaction fees, account features and advanced forex prediction tools will enable forex traders to easily manage their account and foresee trading patterns more effectively. The announcement of these features will also allow CH Devisen Macht to leapfrog ahead of its Swiss Competitors.

With the help of the newly announced features, CH Devisen Macht has been able to provide forex traders with an excellent Forex trading platform, which will help traders to maximize their trading potential. The efficient client-support means that its clients will stay a step ahead than the clients of its Swiss Competitors. The clients should benefit from the lowest possible fees and the most advanced market prediction tools. In fact the companies' aggressive move, posits an influx of clients who presently stay with its competitors.

Full time traders will find CH Devisen Macht an invaluable part of their trading exercise. Even if clients fail to find enough time to fulfill their daily forex trading obligations, the Managed Accounts feature of this forex broker can handle their daily transactions on their behalf. The risk management features of the company are one of the best when compared to the Swiss forex trading market.

The Managed Accounts feature enables busy clients to fully concentrate on their most-important tasks without worrying about their daily forex trading obligations. The advanced forex prediction tools offered by CH Devisen Macht help you to identify the currency pairs on which you can rely on in the near future. This gives you a significant advantage above other traders present in the market. With this tool, you will also be able to find out the favorable trading times in the trading market. This allows you to trade only when trading circumstances favor your trading preferences.

The advanced forex prediction tools also give you strong indications as to whether you need to focus on one or different currency pairs. This gives you the best chance to make sustained gains from forex trading. CH Devisen Macht connects its clients directly with the Swiss Foreign Exchange Marketplace. Its clients will be able to take advantage of the Swiss Foreign Exchange, which is home to the richest collection of interbank spot forex liquidity. The give up facility is also provided as part of the full Broker capability offered to its members.

Seasoned Forex Trading observers are of the opinion that CH Devisen Macht's trading platform is among the safest and most secure trading platforms currently available. You can trade any amount of money you desire without concern as you will be able to manipulate even the finest details of your order execution. It has also provided several risk management tools, which helps you immensely in your endeavor to trade securely. The CH Devisen Macht trading platform also makes trading an effortless task as you will be able to carry out trading with just a single "click" of your mouse. It also provides 24/6 support to those clients who prefer to trade over the phone.

With the variety of new features announced by CH Devisen Macht, it promises to take forex trading to the next level. The very low transaction fees offered should encourage a much higher volume of trading. The account features will help even the busiest people to indulge in daily trading. The advanced forex prediction tools will enable traders to have a much better grasp of what can be expected to happen in the near future of the forex trading market, which is indispensable for effective trading. CH Devisen Macht has also made arrangements for fast forex trading. In addition, the risk management tools make trading a tension-free exercise.

Contact Information

For more information contact Devisen Macht of <http://www.devisenmacht.com>
(<http://www.devisenmacht.com>)
+41 58 226 20 77

Keywords

forex broker

You can read this press release online here