

Home Mortgage Modification Services Firm Announces It Has Achieved Payment Reductions of $1,898

The home loan modification specialists at Home Rescue, LLC are proud to announce they've been able to reduce mortgage payments for one of their clients by just under $2,000.

November 3, 2009 (FPRC) -- Cockeysville, MD -- Home Rescue, LLC is pleased to announce that they were able to reduce mortgage payments for one client by as much as $1,898.20 through home loan modification. This significant drop in payments will help the couple save a significant amount of money, but will also allow them to weather the economic storm much easier.

"To watch a nice couple like the Theodores come in, stressed, scared, and uncertain of their future, and after a few short visits, watch them leave our office with a smile on their faces and a renewed look of hope, is the ultimate high for us. That's why we work so hard to reduce mortgage payments through home loan modification. We want to see this change in every one of our client's faces," explained Duncan Douglas, of Home Rescue, LLC.

The Theodores weren't the only clients of Home Rescue, LLC to receive a significant reduction in their payments. The home loan modification service was able to reduce mortgage payments for thousands of troubled homeowners. These reductions easily range between $500 and $3,203. They've also helped many homeowners locate a forensic loan auditor or aid in a short sale while helping them avoid foreclosure, a term that strikes fear into many American hearts.

Home Rescue, LLC offers home mortgage modification to homeowners across the country, who are anticipating hard financial times in the near future, are already experiencing stressful money problems, or simply want to reduce mortgage payments in an effort to free up some cash. Home loan modification might not be for everyone, but the chance to reduce mortgage payments is always worth it.

At a time when the economy is hitting everyone hard, everyday Americans are finding it more and more difficult to make the payments on their homes. And with a housing market already in turmoil, frightening words such as 'short sale' and 'foreclosure' are being heard frequently. That's why the home mortgage modification specialists at Home Rescue, LLC have dedicated themselves to helping homeowners throughout Maryland, North Carolina, and across the country.

About Home Rescue, LLC:

Home Rescue, LLC offers home loan modification from their offices in Maryland to homeowners throughout the US. Their professionals are knowledgeable in home mortgage modification laws for all states, which allows them to reduce mortgage payments for homeowners and help them avoid the stresses of losing their home.

Contact Information

For more information contact Duncan Douglas of Home Rescue, LLC (<http://homerescuellc.net/>)
443-320-1394

Keywords

reduce mortgage payments

home loan modification

home mortgage modification

You can read this press release online here