

Pear Tree Greetings Launches New Holiday Photo Cards

Spice up tradition with the new collection of holiday photo cards from PearTreeGreetings.com. Season holiday cards with charm by personalizing Christmas photo cards through PearTreeGreetings.com, where designers love paper and love Moms.

November 6, 2009 (FPRC) -- The Designers have been hard at work at Pear Tree Greetings to create this year's new holiday photo cards collection. Focused on backdrops of mocha stars and silver snowstorms, this team is anxiously waiting to convert family photographs into Christmas memories.

Moms have their muse, now Christmas photo cards lend the frame. The 'Soft Elegance' holiday card can stylishly outline your favorite faces. The 'All About You' card means exactly that! You have complete control over the color and with a minimal design; your layout's focal point will be your images. A clean contemporary design with festive red and green palette, the 'HO HO HO' card is a fun design that incorporates text and photos together to create a bold, creative look.

"Our holiday photo cards are unique because they're you. No rendition of a snow man could be as cute as your kids. Your family pictures give us the foundation to our simple designs," says a Creative Director for PearTreeGreetings.com.

Families can now entertain their loved ones by personalizing their favorite captured moments as affordable Christmas photo cards online. Designs are fresh and focused; a modern template to familiar smiles and personal words. Their Photo greeting cards can express green visions of peace, classy collages of blue, or even display your favorite holiday recipe with their new 'Holiday Recipe Photo Cards.'

"Pear Tree Greetings was developed out of the desire to create fun, unique designs that weren't costly and difficult to access. Other options were either too similar, too much work, or way too expensive," says the President of PearTreeGreetings.com.

Firmly rooted in the printing business, Pear Tree Greetings provides over 50 years of experience in the industry, creating stylish designs backed with years of know-how. Adorable and affordable, Pear Tree Greetings believes in quality. From their nichy style to recycled paper, Pear Tree caters to the wishes of their customers, hoping each holiday card opened produces another smile worthy of a photograph.
