

Ambience Productions Announces the Launch of Article Xtra: A New Article Publishing Platform

Ambience Productions announces the release of its new website: Article Xtra; a comprehensive web publishing article and ezine site.

November 12, 2009 (FPRC) -- Gold Coast, Australia – Ambience Productions announces the release of its new website: Article Xtra; a comprehensive web publishing article and ezine site.

Article publishing is exploding all across the internet, with more and more people realizing the power and potential of this method of generating leads for their businesses and websites. Article publishing is not only for authors. Anyone who has knowledge to offer on any given subject can write an article and submit it to an article directory such as Article Xtra. There is no better method of attracting loyal readers, and ultimately customers, than with article publishing.

About The Site:

Article Xtra is a web publishing portal and ezine site. Authors, feel free to sign up for an account and start submitting your articles today. Be sure to make your hyperlinks in the Author Resource Box active links. Web publishers, all content on Article Xtra is free to be republished on your site. The only stipulations are that the content remains unchanged, the Author's Resource is included, as well as a link to Article Xtra. Other than that, enjoy the site and happy writing and publishing!

This is a website that will never grow tardy or stale. New articles on pertinent and topical subjects are added to the Article Xtra database daily. Article Xtra is constantly updating, providing fresh content to satisfy even the most avid reader and web publisher.
