

Ancient Two Tone Gold Jewelry Techniques Now Available in New Hawaiian Jewelry Bracelet Design

Designs 'N Gold announces NEW two tone gold Hawaiian bracelet design for Christmas 2009.

November 24, 2009 (FPRC) -- Designs 'N Gold, a Hawaii based Hawaiian jewelry manufacturer announces its new 14KT Gold and Sterling Silver Two Tone Hawaiian Bracelet for Christmas 2009. Utilizing ancient two tone gold jewelry making techniques that date back to birth of Christ, Designs 'N Gold has created a gift that will be treasured for a life time. A custom made 8mm Hawaiian Bracelet with the owner's name in Raised 14KT Gold letters, Hawaiian Flower accents with black enamel complimented with Designs 'N Gold's copyrighted Royal Maile Scroll Design engraved in solid sterling silver.

This NEW Hawaiian bracelet design was created to suit not only the individual tastes of all people but also to be affordable by all people as well. The Hawaiian bracelet design is traditional Hawaiian dating back to Hawaiian Queen Liliuokalani's reign. Queen Liliuokalani admired the British and patterned her reign after Queen Victoria's of England. Her British counterpart, so legend goes, presented Queen Liliuokalani with a solid gold bracelet with OLD ENGLISH Lettering, enameled in ebony. Queen Liliuokalani wore it always. Soon the ALII (Hawaiian Royalty) commanded that ALL Hawaiian goldsmiths, throughout the kingdom, learn the tedious art. A HAWAIIAN JEWELRY TRADITION WAS BORN. The presence of the 'two tone effect' is prevalent. This NEW Hawaiian bracelet was designed to attract the likes of the young and old alike.

Two tone gold jewelry is said to have evolved in the British Isles. The Celts are known to have pioneered this art and spread their wares across the length and breadth of Europe. With time and the coming of the Romans, the Celts were forced to flee and they settled in various parts of England and adjoining regions. The jewelry nonetheless never really suffered and became an instant hit the world over. It is still famous the world over and is widely preferred by people from all walks of life.

"I believe this NEW Hawaiian bracelet design will become a NEW tradition for those who enjoy Hawaiian heirloom jewelry because of its Hawaiian origins and its affordability during these times of high gold prices" commented Colette Aoki, the owner of Designs 'N Gold.
