OrientalPearls.net announced they will be giving away at least 1 Christmas free gift of jewelry from their web store to celebrate the holiday, with no restriction. For customers whose order amount is over $75, they will also get an extra free jewelry gift - a pair of large sized cultured baroque pearl earrings set in 925 sterling silver that will go with any outfit for double Christmas free gifts

December 2, 2009 (FPRC) -- With the existing economy condition of high employment, most of customers are looking for the highest value for their money in this year's holiday shopping season. Although black Friday and cyber Monday have passed, customers are still in a bargain-hunting mood.

'Retail environment is still pretty tough'. said Lan Toma, a spokesperson for OrientalPearls.net. 'We want to be able to compete in this environment. Since we can get our freshwater pearls directly from pearl farms, we can pass the savings directly to our consumers by cutting out the middlemen and providing much higher valued pearls, but also by giving away Christmas free gifts, we want to be able to stand out above the crowd, while also help out with our customers' gift- giving needs for the holidays.'

The free pearl jewelry gift comes with every order. There is no restriction on the order amount, which is quite rare. Since the jewelry gifts are made of either cultured freshwater pearls, jade, or mother of pearls that have high perceived value, quite a few customers have taken the advantage of this opportunity.

'Yes, our customers love them. They are buying multiple gifts to different people' Says Lan Toma: 'Since if you want to get grandma in Hawaii a necklace jewelry as gift, and then get your aunt in Alaska a pair of pearl earrings as a jewelry gift, both of them will be able to get another Christmas free gift on top of their necklace and earrings jewelry.'

Pearls are the family business at OrientalPearls.net. With more than thousands of pearls and pearl jewelry available in their stock, they can send any order for immediate overnight delivery. With their in-house manufacturing unit, they can also customize every piece of jewelry by pearls grade, size, shape and even pearl color.

With their own pearl farms, OrientalPearls.net can produce any colored pearls their customers including jewelry designers want with a few days' turnaround time. 'That is why we can meet their customer's specific requirement by providing them with a unique piece of pearl jewelry for a one-of-a-kind holiday gift, which also comes with a 6 month free warranty.' Said Lan Toma.

In addition to the free pearl jewelry gift, OrientalPearls.net also offers flat rate shipping and express shipping method with 90 day money back guarantee for complete customer satisfaction. The Christmas free jewelry give away event is expected to be ended before December 24, 2009.
