December 11, 2009 (FPRC) -- NEW YORK, NY -- With the recession putting a damper on people's plans, EMRG Media and BestNewYears.com have created deals designed to give partygoers the best bang for their buck.

BestNewYears.com offers almost 40 parties in NYC on New Years Eve such as the Union Square Ballroom and VIP Lounge, M2, Guastavinos, and Capitale. With 5 to 6 hour premium open bars and platters of hors d'oeuvres, everyone can be spoiled from the moment they enter to when they leave.

"Most people are looking for all inclusive parties so there is no drama throughout the night. They don't want to worry about waiting on line, and taking out their wallets," said Liz Lin, Event Coordinator for EMRG Media and BestNewYears.com.

BestNewYears.com offers different priced packages for New Years Eve Parties in NYC starting as low as $20 for entry after 12:30 to Irving Mill on 16th Street, to VIP packages up to $235 at posh hangouts like Union Square Ballroom, M2, Capitale, Gustavinos and Room Service. The BestNewYear's.com guide provides detailed information on venues, ticket prices, event guidelines, amenities and more.

To get people in the mood, EMRG Media and BestNewYears.com came up with a list to get partygoers ready for their night on the town -- cheap!

1. Buy tickets early: Get them now before prices skyrocket! By buying in groups, you can get a discount on each ticket.
2. Shop around: Look for packages at Nightclubs, Bars, Lounges and Hotels. Speak to your friends and make a decision.
3. Go shopping: December 26th is an ideal time to shop for deals on fantastic outfits at Bloomingdales, Saks or your favorite boutique.
4. Lease some new items: At websites like BagBorroworSteal.com and RentTheRunway.com anyone can look like a celeb without having to purchase an item they will wear only once.
5. Sofa Crash: Instead of reserving hotel rooms, crash on a friend's sofa. This will solve the problem of someone becoming the designated driver.
