December 29, 2009 (FPRC) -- ORLANDO, FL – Skyline Orlando, a leading company specializing in Orlando trade show exhibits and booths has announced the hire of its new Account Manager – Jonathan Parsons.

As a leader in South Florida trade show services, Skyline is a trade show event management company that provides consumers with a comprehensive variety of trade show services. The company specializes in innovative trade exhibit solutions as well as helping clients with their Installation and Dismantling (I&D) needs. Skyline's multifaceted expertise in trade show event management makes it the number one choice for clients looking for a hassle free event.

With an ever increasing client base, Skyline is committed to employing the most experienced and valuable staff members to ensure the company functions to its maximum potential. Adding to its team of quality staff members, Skyline Orlando has recently appointed their newest Account Manager, Jonathan Parsons.

"We are very excited to have Jonathan on board the Skyline Orlando team. With his background and many years of experience within the Skyline team, he is a perfect fit for the role of an Account Manager and is going to make a huge difference here in Orlando," said Dave Bouquet, Area Sales Director for Skyline Orlando.

Parsons has worked with Skyline for over 10 years, having started as Purchasing Coordinator at Skyline Pacific Northwest in 1998. Before being hired as the new Account Manager for Skyline Orlando, Parsons introduced many changes with client/vendor relationships as well as supervising design and artwork as the Project Manager / Design Consultant / Exhibit Designer at the company's Pacific Northwest branch since 2001.

"I am excited to join the Skyline Central Florida team in Orlando, an ever-growing event and trade show marketing destination. Working in the same facility as our Skyline Regional Service Center gives me even more tools to provide the turn-key exhibit solutions that make Skyline such a great partner for my clients' face-to-face marketing programs. The Hybrid Custom Modular Solution we can offer our clients gives them the benefits of modularity and the impact of customization better than anyone in the industry. I have worked for Skyline as long as I have because I truly believe Skyline offers my clients the best of both worlds," said Jonathan Parsons, Account Manager for Skyline Orlando.

The Orlando based Skyline Service Center is a full service facility offering clients comprehensive exhibit and show management.
