

Aren't You Tired of Feeling at War with Google? Announcing SEO Business Boost 2010

Google are changing SEO in 2010. SEObusinessBoost.com ask if you ready for Google and announce their paid webinar to be held on the 4th February 3pm EST (8pm UK time).

January 1, 2010 (FPRC) -- You can get a FREE report to help you find out, when you express an interest in their in-depth paid webinar to be held on the 4th February 3pm EST (8pm UK time). Places to this on-line event are limited, so you are advised to book early.

'Most businesses make 2 fatal mistakes about SEO' said SBB researcher Mike Samuals. 'They either ignore SEO as an evil chore, or they follow black hat or FAD fixes, which are only short lived and even bite back in reputation.'

'The SEO Business Boost 2010 webinar is all a real-business needs to know about SEO, and none of the things they don't. It's built on solid strategies which repeatedly survive knee jerk reaction tactics to changes like this latest Google attack' said Mr Samuals.

The video webinar will be delivered via the Internet, so no travelling is required. All you need to attend is a broadband Internet connection and a PC with audio. You will also be able to type in questions live, after the main 70 minute course.

The webinar is designed for normal business people, rather than geeks, and will teach them what the simple action steps they need to do for 50 minutes per week, to create a solid SEO foundation strategy. Custom software will also be supplied to allow attendees to easily deploy what they have learnt.

You can get further details, and claim your FREE report, at the web page;

All paid-up attendees will receive over $1200 (£800) in bonus SEO software and services to enable them to deploy what they have learnt in the SEO Business Boost 2010 webinar.
