

EnableSoft And BOSS Form Alliance To Empower Enterprises With Efficiency Enabling Technology And Services

EnableSoft, a premier provider of database management software, announces it has partnered with Business Operations Services & Support, Inc. The alliance means better support for the company's many clients.

January 13, 2010 (FPRC) -- WINTER PARK, FL - EnableSoft, Inc. and Business Operations Services & Support, Inc. (BOSS, Inc.) announce they have partnered together industry-proven Foxtrot data integration and mass update technology with top tier consulting and project management resources to offer enabling solutions to enterprises in banking, healthcare and other industries.

The primary objective of the EnableSoft/BOSS alliance includes reducing operating expenses, achieving staffing targets and most importantly, increasing shareholder value; objectives that are especially challenging in today's economic environment. EnableSoft and BOSS share a passion for improving processes and increasing utilization of appropriate technology that contributes to an enterprise's success. Their joint commitment to serving the business community, along with each company's proven track record ensures that the clients of their respective technologies and services will attain their desired results.

For a decade and a half, EnableSoft has been helping companies improve efficiencies and business processes by helping them empower their workers and data stewards. Employers can now move, merge, manage and maintain data without programming experience, using database management software. This has resulted in hard cost savings and immeasurable intangible benefits, including liberating performance by freeing executives and staff from error prone and mind numbing manual processes. EnableSoft's flagship offering is Foxtrot Suite, a comprehensive data scripting mass maintenance and data migration software that is in use by over one third of the largest US banks, premier healthcare providers and payers and clients in other industries worldwide. 'Foxtrot' has literally become a verb in the businesses and communities where it is used.

"Over the years, our clients have been able to automate simple functions with little or no training or support. However, complex and urgent projects often require some 'lift' to accomplish the objectives in a time frame that makes sense. With BOSS, we now have the total solution we have long sought for these cases. Karen's proven leadership, resulting from her experience as an executive at a major banking vendor, as well as one of the world's largest financial institutions ensures that she and her team will deliver the goods," said Richard Milam, founder of EnableSoft.

Located in Lake Mary, FL, BOSS provides expert technology and business operations resources to organizations throughout the country. An outsourcing solution for special projects or business as usual activities, BOSS resources complement and support existing staff. In an continually changing economic landscape, business leaders must look to alternatives when planning for projects that will ultimately impact their bottom line. BOSS provides the necessary resources to keep businesses on target with budget objectives and project timelines without interruption to daily operations.

"As a leader in both business and technology, I have experienced firsthand the challenges in meeting target goals for delivering solutions that impact company profitability and customer service.

Resource constraints and limited automation solutions contribute to companies not meeting timelines or staying on budget. EnableSoft's established reputation as a leader in automation technology, along with Richard's leadership, promises a successful alliance with BOSS's team of professional resources. Together we're creating synergy that empowers enterprises to succeed," said Karen Reichle, founder of BOSS.
