The Live Hacking 2010 Europe workshop will be held in Prague, Czech Republic from March 16th to 18th, 2010. This ethical hackers training course will be conducted by Dr. Ali Jahangiri based on his new book 'Live Hacking: The Ultimate Guide to Hacking Techniques and Countermeasures for Ethical Hackers and IT Security Experts'.

January 14, 2010 (FPRC) -- Dr. Ali Jahangiri, the world-renowned information security and ethical hacking expert, is pleased to announce the Live Hacking 2010 Europe workshop - a definitive and comprehensive workshop for White-hat computer hacking. Based on his new book 'Live Hacking: The Ultimate Guide to Hacking Techniques and Countermeasures for Ethical Hackers and IT Security Experts', the workshop will be held in Prague, Czech Republic from March 16th to 18th, 2010.

This practical workshop is designed to introduce IT professionals to the world of hacking and information security and give them the knowledge they need to thwart the criminal elements in cyberspace. Attendees will need to bring their own laptop and using virtual machines the participants will learn to hack and crack using the techniques and tools of real hackers.

The course is based on Dr. Jahangiri's Live Hacking Book which is available from Amazon.com. The course will start with basic hacking terminology and progresses to look at the different areas of hacking and security including Google hacking, password cracking, malware and hacking on wireless networks. The workshop attendees will each receive a copy of the Live Hacking book.

With more than a decade experience in information security and information technology, Dr. Jahangiri knows all the tricks of this complex "trade" and he is ready to reveal them to the workshop's attendees. He will draw on his many years of academic, professional and practical experience to equip you and your organization with the know-how you need to defend your data against the rising tide of ubiquitous and persistent cyber criminals.
