

Prundo.com Announces Donation to Haiti Relief Fund for Every New Registration

Prundo.com announced today that it will donate money for Haiti Earthquake relief fund for every new registration.

January 25, 2010 (FPRC) -- Prundo.com announced today that it will donate to Haiti relief fund for every new registration. People can now help the victims of the recent earthquake in Haiti, by registering for free with <http://www.prundo.com> and also save money on all auto repairs by downloading free coupons for services like oil change, brakes, tires and over 30 other auto and car services.

Prundo.com CEO Alka Gupta said "At this time of crisis everyone should make an effort to help the victims of Haiti. This is the time when every one needs to come together and work for the common goal of saving lives and helping people in distress". She also added, "Prundo takes its social responsibility very seriously and would like to contribute to the Haiti relief fund for every new registration starting today".

This is the easiest way to donate for the people of Haiti and also save money on auto repairs at the same time said Gupta. Registration is free for the members. Currently Prundo has over $500,000 worth of auto repair coupons for routine maintenance auto and car services.

About Prundo: Prundo.com (<http://www.prundo.com>), located in Irvine, California, makes auto repairs easier and cheaper for both, customers and the auto repair shops. Customers can view and download money-saving coupons for brake, tire, oil change and over 30 other routine maintenance and auto repairs needs. Auto repair shops can reach their targeted customers easily and cost-effectively through their own auto repair shop portal.
